

USE OF CERTIFICATION MARKS

Certification by NOTICE to ISO 13485 demonstrates your commitment to continual improvement. Companies obtaining ISO 13485 certification are entitled to use the applicable certification mark(s). The following shall be complied with:

- The customer has the right to use certificates and/or logos on promotional materials, correspondence and advertisements with the condition to strictly adhere to the scope and location conditions on the certificate. SA (Slovenska akreditacija) logo cannot be used on vehicles, flags, buildings, business cards.
- Printed documents should only be prepared on the basis of the company's certified management system. It should not misrepresent the certification process by evoking the product or service certificate
- No logos on the primary packaging of the product or reference to the management system document shall be found. It is possible to use it on the second package (parcel etc.) with the necessary explanations. (E.g. manufactured at ISO 13485: 2016 certified company XXXX)
- Logos can be used as long as the certificate is valid. If the certificate is canceled or the accreditation of the NOTICE is revoked, the companies are obliged to stop using the logo.
- NOTICE logo can be used alone, accreditation agency logo is used together with NOTICE logo.
